“Be alert and always keep on praying for all the Lord’s people”

EPHESIANS 6:18
North Korea

Saturday 1 January
Pray for secret believers in North Korea, who risk everything to follow Jesus in the face of the most extreme persecution. Ask the Lord to protect them, provide for their needs and use them to shine as lights in the darkness.

Sunday 2 January
Open Doors runs safe houses in China for North Koreans who make the dangerous journey across the border. It’s risky work. Pray for protection for the workers who run the safe houses and the North Koreans who find shelter in them. Ask God to use their time in these safe houses to draw them to Him.

Monday 3 January
Bae* chose to return home to a remote village in North Korea to serve her small underground church, after receiving help at a safe house in China (see Magazine p8). “The thing I give thanks for the most is that Father God uses me to work as His servant,” she wrote in a letter to Open Doors. Pray that she will remain strong and courageous as she holds out the gospel to others.

Tuesday 4 January
Praise God for a secret believer who became a Christian in a safe house in China before returning to North Korea. “After several months, he contacted me from North Korea,” says an Open Doors worker. “He said he was able to tell people about the gospel and they were now having Christian meetings. Later, he sent a secret photo of the people gathering together!” Ask God to strengthen this brother as he shares the gospel.

Wednesday 5 January
In 2020, North Korea closed its borders to try to keep out Covid-19. Although borders have partially reopened, the situation remains desperate, with over half of North Koreans only able to eat one meal a day. Dissatisfaction with Kim Jong-Un is mounting among officials. Ask God to intervene to save the people from starvation and raise up just and righteous leaders for the nation.

Thursday 6 January
Pray for Open Doors workers supporting over 60,000 North Koreans with food aid and medicines through our networks in China. Pray that aid will reach those most in need and for protection for those delivering supplies.

Friday 7 January
Pray for Open Doors’ work with women who have been trafficked and sold into marriage with Chinese men. Our workers are able to reach these women with the love of Jesus, and run several Bible study groups for them. More female workers are needed for this vital ministry. Ask God to provide the right people.

Saturday 8 January
Give thanks that Open Doors is able to broadcast Christian radio programmes into North Korea. The North Korean government tries to disrupt the broadcast frequency, making the sound quality so poor it needs to be changed. Pray against attempts to disrupt these broadcasts.

Sunday 9 January
“We really love the [radio] programmes. We get strengthened and encouraged in our spiritual life,” a secret believer recently shared. But even owning a radio can put a believer at risk. If they are discovered - even just to have a device - they will be arrested and imprisoned, or worse. Pray for protection for those who secretly listen to these broadcasts.

Monday 10 January
“Our vision for 2022 is to expand our work and reach more North Koreans with practical and spiritual support,” says Brother Simon*, who runs Open Doors’ ministry to North Korean believers. “We are hoping to find more workers who will dedicate themselves to this ministry.” Pray that this vision becomes a reality.

China

Tuesday 11 January
China is intentionally reducing the number of overseas business people, students and teachers, especially those suspected of affiliation to missionary organisations. Many overseas Christians have had their visa applications rejected. Ask the Holy Spirit to give believers a renewed sense of freedom and boldness despite the government’s attempts to control them.

Saturday 15 January
In the lead up to the Winter Olympics in Beijing, Chinese Christians will be monitored and restricted more than usual. Pastors will be warned to stay at home and ‘keep quiet’. Ask the Holy Spirit to give believers a renewed sense of freedom and boldness despite the government’s attempts to control them.

“This is a lot of love. It really encourages me. I didn’t think my story is important for anybody. I can’t say anything. This is a miracle. That was a terrible time for me, but if God used my story to help people grow, I am happy. I really am.

“Sometimes you have a very sad and tough time,” Saghar continues. “But God changes that to the best time – for you and other people. Every year, I can see, ‘Yes, God has a plan’. Step by step, this is clearer to me. And it’s not finished.”

Saghar loves to help others feel better, and she has a message for those going through a hard time. “I understand this is very difficult and you can’t think about good things, but trust Jesus, and the future you can smell again, and you can see happiness in your life and enjoy your life again.”

These words are testament to the way God is healing Saghar. “I will keep these letters safe all of my life,” she says.
As the parliamentary launch and Ireland Wednesday 19 January – UK during this uncertain time.

During the coup, many parts of society ground to a halt. Many people – including Christians – have been unable to work, and church activities have been disrupted.

Ask the Lord to provide for the physical, spiritual and emotional needs of believers during this uncertain time.

Sunday 16 January

Christians are facing renewed fear and uncertainty following the military coup in October. The huge strides recently made towards religious freedom under the transitional government are now at risk. Pray that the positive steps made will not only be protected, but built upon.

Monday 17 January

At the time of writing, Abdalla Hamdok has been reinstated as prime minister. However, it’s unclear how much power he’ll have, as the civilian government is subject to military oversight. Pray that ongoing mediation attempts will be fruitful in further showing the military leaders a better way to use their power.

Tuesday 18 January

During the coup, many parts of society ground to a halt. Many people – including Christians – have been unable to work, and church activities have been disrupted.

Ask the Lord to provide for the physical, spiritual and emotional needs of believers during this uncertain time.

Thursday 20 January – Afghanistan

It’s extremely dangerous to live openly as a Christian in Afghanistan, even more so following the Taliban’s seizure of power last year. Pray that a wall of protection will guard secret believers from harm, and ask God to surround each one with His loving presence.

Friday 21 January – North Korea

Christians everywhere in North Korea are in danger. Pray for those who worship secretly and those who are in prison. Ask God to strengthen these believers to find hope and see His hand at work in their lives.

Saturday 22 January – Somalia

In Somalia, Islam is the state religion, and almost everyone is Muslim. The number of Christians is believed to be in the hundreds. Pray that each of our brothers and sisters will find continued strength and hope in Jesus ‘so that they will not grow weary or lose heart’ (Hebrews 12:3).

Sunday 23 January – Libya

Christians in Libya who want to stay safe must live a secret life of faith. This is made harder by there not being a centralised government. Laws are not widely enforced, making Christians further exposed to persecution.

Pray for the provision of a government that strives to protect all its people.

Monday 24 January – Yemen

Secret Christians in Yemen live under constant threat because of their faith. Ask God to give them wisdom and boldness as they live out the gospel. Pray, too, for peace and stability in a country that’s been engulfed in civil war for nearly a decade.

Tuesday 25 January – Eritrea

Last year saw a new wave of Christian arrests, dampening hopes that the government was relaxing its repressive policies following the release of several believers in 2020. Pray that imprisoned Christians and their families will be sustained by God’s presence.

Wednesday 26 January – Nigeria

The level of trauma among Christians is reaching crisis levels as men are killed, women are raped and abducted, and youths are left despondent over the future. Pray for healing and hope, and that more will be done by the government and authorities to combat the escalating violence.

Thursday 27 January – Pakistan

There continues to be a silent epidemic of kidnappings, forced marriages and forced conversion of Christian girls and women in Pakistan. Pray for a stop to these awful crimes, and that our sisters will be released from captivity and healed of all trauma.

Friday 28 January – Iran

House groups continue to be acutely at risk of monitoring, especially in rural areas. Pray that these gatherings will be guarded from the prying ears and eyes of the authorities, and that they will remain places where believers are powerfully encouraged and equipped in their faith.

Saturday 29 January – India

Many Indians are coming to know Jesus after being healed of sickness. Praise God for the witness of the church, and pray that, despite the increasing pressure that Christians in India are facing, Christians will continue to boldly share God’s love with their neighbours.

Sunday 30 January – World

In parts of the world, Islamic extremism is on the ascendancy. It’s gaining ground in Asia, and extremist attacks are also increasingly common across sub-Saharan Africa. Ask the Lord to thwart the plans of those seeking violence, and to guard those who are vulnerable to recruitment by extremists.

Monday 31 January – World

Modern technology is accelerating the persecution of Christians, notably through censorship, disinformation and surveillance. Ask the Lord to protect those being targeted, and pray that international pressure will provoke social media companies to do more to protect religious minorities on their platforms.

---

World Watch List

Wednesday 19 January – UK and Ireland

As the parliamentary launch of the 2022 World Watch List takes place today, pray that the power of the gospel will be visible in the testimonies of the persecuted Christians who speak at the event. Ask the Holy Spirit to stir MPs to stand up for the rights of Christians to worship Jesus in freedom.
Radio programmes in North Korea hit the right frequency

YOUR PRAYERS, SUPPORT AND MESSAGES ARE LETTING SECRET BELIEVERS KNOW THEY ARE NOT ALONE

The voices are scratchy, and sometimes cut out altogether, and the only time to tune in is during the darkest hours of the night. But for the secret listeners of a radio ministry broadcast into North Korea, none of these matter, because it’s remarkable such a thing is even accessible to them.

The Bible is illegal here, and daring to believe in a higher power than the nation’s despotic ruler could lead to death for you and your family. It’s hard to imagine how anyone could ever hear the gospel, let alone grow in their faith. But the airwaves are one place it’s difficult for the authorities to control – and secret believers are making the most of it.

“We get strengthened and encouraged in our spiritual life”

Each night, Christians can listen to worship, sermons and other Christian programmes. “Thank you for the radio programmes. We get strengthened and encouraged in our spiritual life,” shares a believer in a secret message to Open Doors. “The contents of the programmes are very helpful in training leaders and believers, and in understanding the Bible. Some learned what it’s like to live by faith, some experienced and learned more of God’s love, and some became convinced of salvation.”

Unsurprisingly, there are challenges. The authorities attempt to disrupt frequencies, while radios can be difficult to access or fix. But the greatest threat is being discovered with a radio, as it can lead to arrest, imprisonment or worse. Yet such is the longing for spiritual food that believers are willing to take the risk by having one.

One programme featured messages from Open Doors supporters around the world. This deeply moved many secret believers, powerfully reminding them that they are not alone.

“Thanks to your support and prayers, we continue to develop, record and air rich Christian programmes for persecuted North Korean believers, who otherwise would have difficulties maintaining their faith life,” explains James*, an Open Doors worker who serves the ministry.

“We hope to be a faithful help to our persecuted families until the day when they are freed in God’s timing and become salt and light to the rest of the world.”

PRAY

• For the protection of secret believers who listen to the radio programmes

• That the programmes will reach more believers and continue to encourage them in their faith

• For continued inspiration, wisdom and good health for the team leading the ministry.

*Name changed for security reasons

BELOW The radio station records a programme that will be broadcast into North Korea to reach secret believers
Since the Taliban returned to power in Afghanistan last year, it has never been more dangerous to be a secret Afghan believer – and our persecuted church family there are crying out for us to join them in prayer.

It can be hard to know how to pray, but we serve a mighty God who hears our prayers and draws near in the darkness. This month, we invite you to join with the church in Afghanistan as we pray four of God’s biblical names over their people and nation. All names have been changed for security reasons.

THE GOD WHO SEES

“I keep my eyes always on the Lord. With him at my right hand, I will not be shaken.” PSALM 16:8

Tuesday 1 February

Saad is a secret believer who has decided to remain in Afghanistan with his wife, Fatimah. On the night the Taliban returned, Fatimah gave birth to a daughter. “When the Taliban took control, it was everything we feared,” Saad says. “That night, I felt someone step into my memories and try to snuff them out, to speak fear to me.” Today, pray that secret believers in Afghanistan will not let fear of the Taliban dictate how they live. Ask God to give them courage.

Wednesday 2 February

Sharifullah is a traditional craftsman – and a secret believer. He had been including Christian symbolism in his art, but when the Taliban came, his livelihood was closed down. “Signs of joy have been painted over and replaced with Taliban slogans, which are a far cry from hope,” he says. Many believers who have chosen to stay are unsure of the future; their livelihood and education hang in the balance. Ask God to strengthen their faith as they do their best to survive under new leaders and in the midst of an unstable economy.

Thursday 3 February

The Taliban notoriously treat women harshly and prevent them from going to school. “There is a complete cloak of silence around any kind of violation of a woman’s space and dignity,” a local source tells Open Doors. “If the situation persists and worsens, Afghan women will no longer be able to bring the hope and enlightenment of education to future generations.” Lift all Afghan girls and women up to the Lord today. Pray that opportunities to grow and thrive would not be snatched away from them.

Friday 4 February

Pray for Open Doors partners who meet with and minister to Afghan refugees in neighbouring countries. “As Christians, I think we should be open to accept suffering people, but what if radicals come among them? We need wisdom and leading from God in this,” shares our partner Hamad. “Of course, as Christians we don’t reject refugee people, but accept and serve them.” Ask the Lord to sustain them and give them energy and capacity for the work.

Saturday 5 February

Samad is a Muslim man who fled Afghanistan to a neighbouring country. After meeting with our partners who supported him and shared the gospel with him, he admitted that he had become disappointed in Islam because of the Taliban. At the moment, he is still searching for his family as they were separated during the takeover. Praise God for Samad’s seeking heart. Pray that he will open his heart to Jesus and that he will be reunited with his family.

Sunday 6 February

Now the Taliban is back in power, there are reports of people, including Christians, who randomly disappear. Said Farishteh, a young Christian woman from the Gulf, shares: “Many of us live in fear of being kidnapped... Knowing I am God’s beloved reminds me that, no matter what someone does to me, the church will not forget me because Jesus will not forget me.” Ask God to protect these missing believers and pray for God’s presence to give comfort to the loved ones they’ve left behind.

Monday 7 February

Desperate locals – including Christians – have tried everything to leave Afghanistan. A field partner in the region says: “Like all citizens, Christians are afraid. They might want to stay in Afghanistan but stay hidden and serve Jesus in secret. Or it might also be that they would like to escape but they can’t – all of these scenarios are happening.” Ask the Lord to protect believers attempting to flee – pray for provision of food, transport and favour on their dangerous journeys.

THE GOD OF PEACE

“Peace I leave with you; my peace I give you... Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid.” JOHN 14:27

Tuesday 8 February
With Afghans in diaspora, the opportunities for the church all over the world to come together and welcome them have multiplied. Today, pray for all the church communities reaching out to Afghan believers, that they will receive the refugees with genuine warmth. Pray that the refugees will assimilate well into their new lives, and that, through the testimony of the church, they will know and accept Christ’s gift of salvation.

Thursday 10 February
Living in such a hostile environment has made fear and anxiety a constant companion for Afghan locals. Aside from the relentless violence and threats of extremist attacks, secret believers face much higher stakes: their faith in Jesus alone can have them killed. Pray for secret believers to find rest in Christ. Pray that they will surrender their worries to Jesus, and fully entrust their future to him.

Friday 11 February
Islamic groups across Asia have been inspired by the Taliban’s victory. And extremism, especially in South East Asia, could be on the rise. Muslim hardliners in Bangladesh have also been strengthened in their resolve; so much so that they’ve publicly declared that they’ll travel to Afghanistan to join the Taliban’s ranks. Ask the Lord to confuse their plans – pray that extremism will not spread as a result of the Taliban’s newfound rule.

Saturday 12 February
“The [Taliban] soldiers are not committed to human dignity,” says local believer Fatimah. “Their eyes are looking all the time at how to have power and how to demean anyone who wants to think and dream.” It may seem unlikely that members of extremist groups could ever turn from their ways, but nothing is impossible with God! Ask the Lord to transform the hearts of the Taliban and IS-K today. Pray that they will be reconciled to Jesus and will finally find God’s peace.

Sunday 13 February
The trauma of war and sudden change can be difficult for children to adjust to. “The children are our hope,” says a local Open Doors partner. “Now they are at a loss, they have no schooling, and their future is unknown. Pray that they will know Jesus growing up. Pray for God to fill the hole in their hearts left by war, and that they would be made whole in Him. Pray for opportunities for them to continue with their education.”

Monday 14 February
After the Taliban takeover, local journalism dwindled in Afghanistan. Because of the lack of reliable news sources in the country, fake news has been proliferating around the world about what goes on inside the country. Much of this unverified information also concerns Christians, causing undue panic and alarm. Pray that only the truth about what goes on in the country will come out. Pray against censorship and misinformation and ask God to preserve the stories of His people.

“The children are our hope” – please pray for Afghan children to know God’s love.
The world has been shocked by the tragedy unfolding in Afghanistan. But even though the current situation for the Afghan people is heartbreaking, God assures us that the battle is His. In Exodus 17, Moses and Joshua led the Israelites in a battle with the Amalekites. When Moses held up his staff, Joshua and the Israelites won the battle below. When Moses lowered his arms, the Amalekites won. When Moses grew tired, Hur and Aaron held up his hands, one on each side, until Joshua’s army completely defeated the Amalekites. Moses then built an altar to the Lord and called it Jehovah Nissi – ‘The Lord Is My Banner’ – because the Lord went before them and gave them the victory.

Hana*, an Open Doors partner in the Gulf region, describes how, despite the challenges, she has seen glimpses of God’s victory in Afghanistan:

“In the last 20 years, persecution has continued. It has spiked; it has not gone down; it has not decreased. There has been little or no space in the conversation for religious freedom. Those who have believed in Jesus and follow Christ have been persecuted for their faith. Yes, persecution has been on the rise, but so has access to knowledge and freedom – and 20 years of access is a lot.

“Twenty years of access means more generations have been impacted. Two of them have been impacted directly, and one generation, not yet born, is yet to be impacted by the gifts of freedom. The exercise of freedom, and the fight, the battle, the war, it is going on at this moment in the hearts of the most resilient communities in the face of the earth.”

“When you pray, you meet us in the room of God’s throne,” says secret believer Fatimah*. “You meet us there and we can have communion there.”

“It will not be easy, but we do this because we believe Jesus is there and is alive,” shares her husband Saad*. “We are all reading and meditating on John 17, especially trying to understand the measure of love. If you love us, pray for us. This is where we are together: at the foot of the cross, where the full measure of love is known. If you love me – if you love Jesus – pray for us.”

God of angel armies, we pray that Your banner of love will be over our church family in Afghanistan. Sustain and uphold them through these trials and challenges, and secure in them Your hope of victory. Amen.

GOD OUR PROVIDER

“And my God will meet all your needs according to the riches of his glory in Christ Jesus” PHILIPPIANS 4:19

Tuesday 15 February
Many aid organisations and governing bodies have cut their support in Afghanistan in an attempt to snub the Taliban leadership. But without foreign aid it’s the locals who suffer the most. Pray for God’s wisdom for global policy and decision makers – ask the Lord to show them how to reach those in need with basic necessities as they also uphold justice, righteousness and truth.

Wednesday 16 February
It’s a challenge to transport goods, to go through checkpoints and to have access to the believers in refugee camps to give them the support they need most. Transporting help and working on the frontlines are fraught with challenges, but praise God that He continues to open doors for His work to prosper. Today, pray that God will continue to open doors for our partners to build connections on the ground.

Thursday 17 February
Aysha is an Open Doors partner ministering to Afghan refugees: “Refugees – especially women – are emotionally broken, very stressed and often crying as they have lost their homes, and because of the situation in their country. We need prayers for wisdom, strength and new opportunities to serve the women, such as trauma counselling. Pray that we can share the gospel with them and bring them to local churches.”

Friday 18 February
Refugees are controlled by the army of the country they’re entering. They are given temporary shelter in transit camps, then have to go through a registration process. Only then are they allowed to be part of the camps. “The displaced have nowhere to go and are going back and forth, being passed around by border control. So many have no idea what waits for them on the other side of the border,” says a local partner. Ask God to give refugees safe passage and pray that they will find shelter.

Saturday 19 February
Sharinah and her child have become asylum seekers in a neighbouring country after escaping Afghanistan. Her child had pneumonia and she had no money. By God’s providence, Sharinah ran into an Open Doors partner, Ali, while he was arranging food deliveries. Ali was led by God’s Spirit to help Sharinah’s child get proper healthcare right then and there. Sharinah is a Muslim, but she is now in regular contact with Ali for encouragement. Continue to pray for healing for Sharinah’s child – and pray that Jesus will show Himself to Sharinah.

Sunday 20 February
The raging Covid pandemic has not spared Afghanistan, and child malnutrition and measles outbreaks are also affecting the country. A doctor told the media, “Basic medical equipment and facilities are lacking in the city hospital – what could the state of health look like in the areas that are further away?” Today, ask the Lord to revitalise the Afghan hospitals. Ask Him to heal the sick and restore their health.

Monday 21 February
God continues to be faithful in reaching needy Afghan believers. Nazim, one of our frontline partners, shares: “We have supported other families in this area, Christian and non-Christian, with some food packs and clean water as there has been almost no clean water there for around three years.” Today, give thanks to God for how He reaches out and strengthens Afghan believers physically and spiritually. Indeed, He is Jehovah Jireh, our God who provides!
Jehovah Nissi
THE LORD IS OUR BANNER
“The LORD will fight for you; you need only to be still.” EXODUS 14:14

Tuesday 22 February
Despite their circumstances, secret believers in Afghanistan are still trusting in the sovereignty of God. Even with the loss of his livelihood, Sharifullah says, “We will never let hope be silenced... We will make sure the world hears the gospel through every breath we take. And we know you will help us by living the gospel, using your freedom and sharing Jesus with those who have come to your neighbourhoods. Please continue to stand with us.” Praise God for the faith of believers in Afghanistan!

Wednesday 23 February
Secret believers in hiding are desperately seeking a safe community where they can live out their faith and be fed spiritually. Ask God to keep the faith of Afghan believers alive through His Word. Pray that He will lead them to churches and communities of faith where they can grow in Jesus. Pray that the promises of God will take root in their hearts and bear fruit, and pray that He will provide pastors, ministers and Bible teachers to encourage them.

Thursday 24 February
A local source says: “In the Asian context, family ties are very close knit. Many believers who leave the country have left with their close families who don’t know Jesus yet. Pray that they would have the courage to share the truth of Christ within their families. However, when they do so, they must be prepared for the consequences. There is no guarantee as to how their loved ones would respond.” Today, pray for the secret believers to have courage to be a witness for Christ despite the high risks.

Friday 25 February
Open Doors partners have already been able to help many refugee families with the basics that they need to survive. For the future, our partners are already looking for ways to help refugee families for the long-term – possibly with small scale businesses like variety shops, or with tuk-tuks or local taxis. Praise God for the overwhelming support and generosity of the global church towards Afghanistan, and for the kingdom work He is doing in their midst!

Saturday 26 February
Even against the backdrop of violence, a health crisis, and shortages of every kind, secret believers in Afghanistan remain confident in Jesus. For Saad and his wife Fatimah, the birth of their daughter is a sign of hope: “The birth of our baby girl is a sign that God has not given up on our country.” Praise God for the hope He gives Afghan believers to persevere. Pray that, despite their situation, secret believers and Afghan refugees would stand strong in their suffering. May they put their hope and trust in our God who provides victory.

Sunday 27 February
As Afghanistan fades out of the headlines, it could be easy for us in the global church to forget about the suffering of our brothers and sisters in this country. Or it could also be the opposite – as news of terrorist attacks in the Gulf constantly bombard us, our hearts could grow weary and overwhelmed. As we approach the end of our month of prayer, ask the Lord to renew the hearts of His people here in the UK and Ireland with compassion for their brothers and sisters in Afghanistan and around the world who suffer for following Jesus.

Monday 28 February
Thank you for joining in prayer with our Afghan brothers and sisters this month. Knowing that you remember them means so much to our brothers and sisters in Afghanistan. As one believer shares, “Knowing I am God’s beloved reminds me that no matter what someone does to me, the church will not forget me because Jesus will not forget me.”

Please keep holding Afghan believers before God in your prayers – we will continue to provide the latest prayer information to help you do this throughout the year. And you can find the latest stories and prayer updates on our website: go to opendoorsuk.org
This year, across Myanmar, Sudan and especially Afghanistan, we have seen how situations for persecuted Christians can change overnight. What little freedom these believers may have had has been snatched away or is under increasing threat. But there is hope. And here are two ways you can be part of that hope.

INVITE YOUR MP
The parliamentary launch of the 2022 World Watch List at 3pm on 19 January is an amazing opportunity for our government to understand how they can use their power to speak up on behalf of our persecuted brothers and sisters. And you can help make that happen – by inviting your MP to attend. At the launch, MPs will hear first-hand from persecuted Christians about the human rights abuses they face, and be equipped to bring about real change for our persecuted church family.

The launch will also provide MPs with recommendations on what they can do to protect religious freedom.

It’s not too late to invite your MP to the event if you’ve not already done so. Go to opendoorsuk.org

PRAY WITH US
This year we are inviting you to a special World Watch List edition of our prayer webinar. Join us at 8.15pm on 19 January to pray for Christians living in the top 10 countries where following Jesus costs the most.

There will also be an opportunity to hear the latest update on the parliamentary launch and how MPs have responded. Don’t miss this wonderful chance to pray for God to build His church in the most dangerous places on earth.

“I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.”
